

Commencement of Agaricus Cultivation under DBT Star College Scheme

Department of Agriculture, Sri Guru Teg Bahadur Khalsa College, Sri Anandpur Sahib undertook a mini-project of Agaricus cultivation for student of B.Sc. (Agri.) Sem-VII under the guidance of Prof. Bhawna Thakur and under the supervision of Dr. Sartaj Singh on November 18, 2019. Agaricus, also known as Button mushroom is a nutraceutical food having various health benefits. This year the fruiting was obtained in 17 days whereas the same was observed in 25 days previous year. This year the training was given to 25 students of B.Sc. (Agri.) Sem-VII. Dr. Jasvir Singh, Principal praised the efforts of students and teachers and also said that these types of trainings are very helpful to the students to establish their own Mushroom farm.

