

WORLD FOOD DAY

Department of Agriculture

The Department of Agriculture, Sri Guru Teg Bahadur Khalsa College, Sri Anandpur Sahib in collaboration with Institutions Innovation Council (IIC) organise a vibrant Food Fest on 16th October 2025 to mark the celebration of World Food Day. The event aimed to promote awareness about global food security, sustainable food systems, and the importance of nutritious and safe food for all.

The program was inaugurated by the Principal Dr. Jasvir Singh, who addressed the gathering and highlighted the significance of World Food Day in combating hunger and promoting sustainable agricultural practices. Faculty members, students, and invited guests enthusiastically participated in the celebration.

Various stalls were set up by the students, showcasing a wide variety of traditional, organic, and innovative food items prepared from locally available ingredients. The emphasis was on nutritional value, hygiene, and sustainability. Some students also presented innovative ideas on minimizing food waste and utilizing farm produce efficiently. The fest provided a platform for students to showcase their culinary skills, creativity, and understanding of sustainable food production.

Dr. Jasvir Singh the college principal encouraged students to explore entrepreneurship and emphasized the advantages of self-employment and the importance of healthy eating
