Introduction

The PG Department of Economics, Sri Guru Tegh Bahadur Khalsa College, Sri Anandpur Sahib, organized an Panel Discussion on GST Reforms 2.0” , on 29,Jan, 2026. The discussion was conducted under the supervision of Dr. Shaveta Kaushal. GST 2.0 sets out to clean up those issues, by simplifying the rate structure, to minimize classification disputes and collapsing slabs, to maintain revenue neutrality through a broader tax base; improve digitization to accelerate and automate compliance, to allow for real-time monitoring; and improve ease of doing business specifically for MSMEs by reducing compliance, and increasing transparency across the tax system. The favorable side of these reforms is represented by undergraduate students whereas postgraduate students highlights its loopholes. This session help students to understand the relevance of tax structure within the economy. It also enhances debate skills of students through which they learn to express their views more effectively.

The discussion is concluded with an objective of achieving great deal of knowledge about GST Reforms and its applicability within the economy. Students cordially participated in panel discussion and try to enhance learning alongwith knowledge.
