

Report on Documentary Screening:

“How China Escaped from Poverty: The 40-Year Miracle”

The PG Department of Economics organized a documentary screening titled How China Escaped from Poverty: The 40-Year Miracle on 23 February 2026, from 9:30 AM to 10:15 AM, with the objective of providing students with a deeper understanding of China’s economic transformation and poverty alleviation strategies.

The programme was organized under the able guidance of the Convenor, Dr. Jasvir Singh, Principal of the institution. The event was efficiently coordinated by Dr. Shaveta Kaushal, along with Ms. Amandeep Kaur and Ms. Manpreet Kaur.

Students of M.A. Economics I Year, M.A. Economics II Year, and B.A. Economics actively participated in the documentary screening. The documentary highlighted China’s remarkable journey over four decades, focusing on economic reforms, industrialization, rural development, poverty reduction policies, and the role of government planning in achieving sustained economic growth.

The screening helped students understand key concepts such as structural transformation, inclusive growth, and long-term development planning through real-world examples. It encouraged critical thinking and comparative analysis between different economic models and development strategies.

Overall, the documentary screening proved to be highly informative and educational. By connecting theoretical knowledge with real-world global economic changes, it enhanced the students' educational experience. The programme concluded successfully with appreciation for the organizers and active participation of the students.
